NEWS RELEASE
CITY OF JONESVILLE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ALBRIGHT PROMOTED TO JONESVILLE POLICE SERGEANT

The City of Jonesville is pleased to announce the promotion of police officer Carl Albright to the rank of Sergeant. City Clerk, Cindy Means, administered the oath of office to Sergeant Albright on September 1st.

Albright joined the Jonesville Police Department in September of 2020, after a 35-year career with the Hillsdale County Sheriff Department. Prior to his retirement from the Sheriff Department in 2020, he served as a road patrol deputy, sergeant and undersheriff. Albright says that his hiring in Jonesville was like coming home – he started his police career as an officer for the Village of Jonesville in 1982 and served for three years. His promotion marks his second time as Sergeant for the Jonesville Police Department.

“It was very refreshing to return to Jonesville after 35 years away,” Albright said. “Many things have changed in those 35 years but some things remain the same. Jonesville has grown and prospered thanks to city officials that support local businesses and their City employees. The citizens still support the police and fire departments. People still know their neighbors and are willing to help each other. The citizens still know the importance of supporting a great school.”

Albright noted that he enjoys interacting with the citizens, young people and business owners. “I believe that Jonesville is a great place to live and that is why I am so honored and blessed to be serving the citizens of Jonesville.”

In announcing Albright’s promotion, Director of Public Safety and Chief of Police Kurt Etter praised his focus on community-oriented policing. “Carl’s drive to provide such a high level of proactive contact’s and enforcement is unheard of in today’s workforce. We are very pleased that he chose to join our team.”

In his spare time, Sergeant Albright enjoys hunting, fishing and any outdoor activities. He lives in the City with his wife, Julie, and raised three children here.
